

FREEPORT PARTICIPATES IN SALVATION ARMY'S ADOPT AND ANGEL PROGRAM

In December 2011, Freeport LNG employees and contractors adopted 40 underprivileged children in the Brazosport area through the Salvation Army's Adopt and Angel program for Christmas. Each child, or "angel," who was adopted was provided with gifts of toys, clothing and other items from their wish lists by the generosity of the Freeport LNG employees. When the gifts were presented to the recipients by the Salvation Army, the families also received a box of food to help them with their holiday meals. The nonperishable food items had been collected by Freeport LNG employees during the annual Thanksgiving Feast. This is the sixth year that Freeport LNG has participated in this program.
